THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

Redwood City as Seen Through Incidents Gathered Here and There

R. F. Chilcott received a telephone message late on Thursday announcing the serious illness of Harold O. Heiner.

The Heise Grocery has sold the stock of goods to D. R. Stafford, any one owing the store will please call at the home of Mrs. Heise at 333 Winslow street and settle the account.

Mrs. Charles McCormick and family have returned to their town house for the winter. Their Atherton home is one of the most attractive on the peninsula.

Henry Chapin arrived from Oregon during the week having been in the north for several months looking after affairs of his large ranch. Mr. Chapin will spend the winter in Redwood City.

August Taylor and family left this week for the city where they have taken the Shreve home for the winter.

Mrs. George Stafford is seriously ill at the home of her sister in San Francisco where she went some time ago to consult a specialist. Her illness causes her friends here much alarm.

Mrs. David Sampson, an old-time resident of this city, has been very low at her home on East Bradford street. Because of her advanced age it is not expected that she will recover.

M. A. Hiner who has worked for Al Newman at Woodside for several years has taken a position here with the Union Oil company. Mr. Hiner and his mother have moved from Woodside and have rented a house in Redwood Highlands where they will reside.

Robert Letts, the real estate and insurance agent, has secured an office in the Sequoia Theatre building and will occupy it during the first part of next week. Mr. Letts is building up a lucrative business in insurance, which is his specialty.

The usual Thanksgiving dinner will take place at Bernasque's next Thursday. The dinner will begin at 12:30 and continue until 8 o'clock p. m. Make your reservations early. These dinners have no equal anywhere. The charge is $1.50 per person.

At a meeting of Redwood Parlor, N. S. G. W., held on Thursday evening the sum of $50 was appropriated to the War Savings drive. The Parlor has shown its patriotism throughout the war. It has subscribed liberally to the Red Cross, has purchased $2000 worth of Liberty Bonds and $1000 War Savings stamps. Very few societies in the state have made a better showing.

The stork left a baby at the home of Lieutenant and Mrs. McAllister in San Francisco on Thursday, November 14, 1918. Lieutenant is at present at Camp Humphreys. He was about to go overseas with his regiment when the armistice was signed.

Lucius Williams returned home from Fort Rosenkrans, near San Diego, last Tuesday having been discharged from the army physically disabled. Mr. Williams has an honorable discharge. While south he met Colonel Pourie, who was the first commander of Camp Fremont. He was then major. He recognized Young Williams and recalled of the happy days spent in the county.

Mr. C. M. Dossie was called to Monticello, Iowa, last week by the very serious illness of his mother. He arrived at his old home on Monday and found his mother, who is over 80 years of age, still alive but very low, because of a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Dossie will remain in Iowa for at least a month. During his absence his son-in-law, Mr. Clifton Woodhams will look after the business of the Geo. H. Rice Abstract company.

Mr. Lewis E. Adams, science teacher at the Sequoia Union High School, received a telegram Tuesday informing him of the death of his brother, Lieutenant Chester Adams at Houston, Texas. Lieutenant Adams was an army aviator and was killed by the falling of his airplane. He was a brilliant young man, 25 years of age and a graduate of the University of Texas. He was buried at his old home in Abilene, Texas, where his parents reside.

If you have Watch trouble see watch doctor, George Peterson, 214 Main street, Sequoia Hotel Building.

LINDSEY WILSON WAS WOUNDED IN FRANCE

Mr. Alex Wilson received word from France last week that his son, Lindsey Wilson had been wounded in action and was in a French hospital. The news came from one of Mr. Wilson's comrades and the information was that the injury was not serious and in all probability the young man would be back with his company in a few weeks. Lindsey Wilson left with the first draft of Camp Lewis and after training there was sent on to France. The young man is an alumnus of Sequoia high school and was an employee of the Balfour Guthrie Co., of San Francisco.

RENOVATING AND REMODELING CITY MEAT MARKET

The City Market on Main street, Casaretto and Merrill, proprietors, will soon be one of the most attractive meat markets in the county as well as being the most sanitary. The proprietors are remodeling it and are spending considerable money to make it attractive.

The market is set off by a metal ceiling where the walls are resplendent in snowy white tiling. Glass plates surround the counters. At the rear of the market is a refrigerator connected with the ice plant of the concern in which will be kept the fish and poultry. All modern conveniences are to be installed, even the men behind the counter are to wear an up-to-date smile. The concern is to make a big drive for trade and nothing will be left undone to make the market attractive and inviting.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM JOHN GREER, IN FRANCE

The following is a very interesting letter from John Greer, a Palo Alto boy in France with the American forces. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Greer:

France, October 26, 1918.—My Dear Sister: I am taking advantage of this opportunity to write you these few lines, the first since writing mother and dad some two weeks ago. During the last two months I have received numerous letters from you, and although they have remained unanswered until this date, I assure you that I appreciate your thoughtfulness in a manner that I am unable to express on paper.

Well, Sis, to tell you the truth I've undergone the most strenuous period of my life. The past week and a half has been an experience that will remain fresh in my mind as long as I live. On the morning of October 4, one year to the day from the time I reported at San Jose for service, at 6:45 a. m. I went over the top with the doughboys as first aid man with a detachment of signal corps laying the corps axis, the main line of communication from the commander to the men in the line. And it has since been pronounced one of the hardest—in fact there has been no battle in the war that has surpassed it. We were in the push six days, always gaining our objectives although our casualties were heavy. The morale of the men could not be surpassed.

To show you the sort of barrage through which we had to advance, out of a detachment of fourteen men we lost five in the first 150 yards of advance. Clayton Kieff and I went over and worked together all through it, and as men were falling wounded and dead all about us never once were we able to protect ourselves in a shell hole or trench. To tell you the truth I sort of felt a little queer before going over, but once under way never once did fear enter my heart for I felt that a supreme power was overlooking my welfare. I knew that if death was to be my fate I was prepared to go. I started with a prayer on my lips and surely knew that those at home were not going to remain unheard. So here I am today well back of the lines, far better off for my experience mentally and morally, and as fit a man as ever physically, as is also my old pal Kieff, as we all call him. By the way he is a stanch K. of C. and a man who thought more of his religion I never met. Believe me it takes just experience to bring home to you that religion really means to a man when face to face with death at every turn and step.

On several occasions we ran into or perilously close to machine gun nests, and more than once we were forced to take refuge from the whizzing bullets of a keen sniper. On all such occasions we lost or had men wounded, but Kieff and I always managed to come out intact. To show how our division is rated, I am enclosing a circular issued today to us. Who would be ashamed to lay down his life to uphold the name of such a fighting force when even your bitterest foes admit your superiority? Don't worry as to my welfare, when I can come through a week like the one just past. Well, I'll have to call it quits for this time. Hoping you receive this letter as it leaves me, in the best of one past, for I'm sure going to return health and spirits. Your devoted brother, JOHN.

1918-19 GRAND JURY EM- PANELLED AND INSTRUCTED

Judge Buck on Wednesday empaneled the grand jury for 1918 and 1919. A report of the work of the jury will be returned next January. The court's charge to the jury was free of any sensations.

The only matter upon which the court laid particular stress was the question of the salaries of county officials. The judge informed the jury that many inequalities exist in the county's pay roll and suggested that a comparison be made of the salaries paid in this county and in Santa Clara county. Some officials with little work to do, he said, are paid munificent salaries, while others whose duties are much more arduous, receive considerably less. He explained that any changes in salaries must be made by the State Legislature and advised the jury to report its findings and recommendations in this regard to the assemblyman from this district. The judge informed the jury that the jury should endeavor to equalize the salaries.

The court appointed Frederick D. Lorton of Burlingame foreman and the jury appointed Mrs. Charles H. Godfrey also of Burlingame secretary. An appointment of an accountant to expert the books of the various county officials will be made next week by the new grand jury. There are a number of applicants for the position.

The personnel of the jury, which is composed of ten men and nine women, follows:

- First Township—
John B. Clarke, Daly City.
Edward Ryan, Daly City.
Stella Jensen, Mount Olivet.
Enrico Minucelani, South San Francisco.
B. H. Truax, South San Francisco.
John B. Clarke, San Bruno.
Second Township—
Fred D. Lorton, Burlingame (foreman).
Annie Godfrey, Burlingame (secretary).
Martha Chapman, Burlingame.
Deborah Friedman, Burlingame.
Ena Hankins, Burlingame.
Catherine A. Bain, San Mateo.
W. W. Case, San Mateo.
Harriet C. Haydock, San Carlos.
Third Township—
Elizabeth Hogan, Redwood City.
William Jamieson, Redwood City.
J. J. Kelly, Woodside.
Fourth Township—

R. D. Savage, Halfmoon Bay.

FAILED TO PAY THE RENT C. J. AHLBORN BEING SUED

A suit to compel C. J. Ahlborn, the lease of the hotel Sequoia in Redwood City, to pay up his rent and vacate the building has been commenced in the superior court by the Redwood City Hotel company, which owns the property. The action for unlawful detainer was filed by Attorneys Ross and Ross, representing the hotel company.

On December 7, 1917, Ahlborn entered into a written lease with the hotel company whereby he was to take the hotel, grill and bar for a period of five years from January 1, 1918, at a rental of $300 a month, to be paid on the first of each month. The lease also included the stores and offices in the hotel building. Subsequently, the complaint alleges, a supplemental agreement was entered into whereby the rental for the six months beginning January 1, 1918, was to be reduced to $250 a month. The hotel company avers in its suit that only $125 of the October rental has been paid and nothing has been paid on account of the November rent. There now remains due and unpaid the sum of $375. The complaint recites that on November 12th the hotel company served a written notice on Ahlborn to pay his rent or quit the premises, but he has failed and neglected to do either. The trial of the case has been set for this morning in the superior court.

ROBERT WISNOM PASSED AWAY IN SAN MATEO

Robert Wisnom, the well-known capitalist of San Mateo, passed away at his home there early on Wednesday morning, following a relapse from the effects of a recent operation. Mr. Wisnom came to this county in the early seventies and by wise speculation accumulated a fortune. In the early days he was builder and contractor. He was one of the best-known residents of the county.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Sarah Wisnom, the deceased is survived by seven children, Mrs. Jennie D. Elving, Mrs. Anna Wisnom, now in Ireland; John, Robert J., William D., Samuel A., and David Wisnom. He was a native of Ballycarry, County Antrim, Ireland, 73 years old.

TWO OF OUR SOLDIER BOYS GONE TO THEIR REWARD

Clifford Bell, who was born and raised at Bellvale, passed away at the front in France on October 25, the victim of pneumonia. The news of his death was sent to his brother, Robert Bell of this city. Clifford Bell was one of six brothers, five of whom are in the service and as far as known somewhere in France. Bell had been over the top three times. The body of the brave young man was interred in a cemetery established in France for the American soldiers. The father of the boy resides in Menlo Park.

John H. Eberle, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Eberle, passed away at South Bend, Oregon, last Monday from an attack of pneumonia. He was a member of the Aero Squadron. He enlisted at Riverside last June and was sent to Oregon. The remains will arrive from the north this morning. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

MRS. HEINER DIED AT WILLOWS

The numerous friends in this city of Mrs. Ilarene Heiner, wife of H. O. Heiner, formerly county recorder, were shocked on Thursday to learn of her sudden death at Willows, Glenn county. She passed away at her home there on Thursday afternoon from pneumonia superinduced by influenza. Mrs. Heiner left this city about a month ago to make her home in the north. Her husband, who has a good position with the Diamond Match company, had gone a month before. Some two weeks ago the entire family was taken down with the prevailing epidemic. Mr. Heiner and his young son, Duncan, are still very low with the disease. Mrs. Heiner was formerly Miss Duncan, she was born in Hollister but with the prevailing epidemic. Mr. Heiner was a teacher in the West Union school. Mrs. Heiner was a relative of the well-known Enright family of San Jose. Mrs. Heiner suffered a sad bereavement last summer when she lost her father and mother in an automobile accident on the highway near town. Her father was killed almost instantly and her mother lingered for several weeks before passing away. Mrs. Heiner was a kind and lovable woman, esteemed by all for her many womanly virtues, cheery disposition and charming manner. Her death is a severe shock to her family and friends. The remains were shipped to Hollister yesterday for burial. The funeral will take place most likely this afternoon. Many relatives and friends will attend from here. Mrs. Heiner is survived by her husband and young son, Duncan, aged eight years.

COBURN LEAVES WILL

By the terms of the will left by Loren Coburn the big estate is bequeathed to his wife and imbecile son in equal shares. Provisions are made for charity at the son's death. There is another will in existence but up to a late hour last evening it had not been filed. All matters regarding the estate will be heard in the superior court next Friday.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my most sincere thanks to the voters of San Mateo county who voted for me at the last election. Hoping they will remain loyal to me four years from now. I remain,

Yours faithfully,
DON L. FUNGE.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF COUNTY FATHERS

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, November 18 at 10 a. m., there being present Dr. C. V. Thompson, presiding; T. L. Hickey, W. H. Brown, John MacBain and Jos. M. Francis.

A communication was read from Mrs. Elsa S. McGinn, chairman of the San Mateo County Woman's Committee of the State and National Councils of Defense, thanking the board for the donation of $200 made the committee to assist in carrying on its work in the county. Mrs. McGinn in the communication told of the splendid work of the Woman's War Service Army, which is a part of the Councils of Defense, during the Spanish influenza epidemic.

A copy of a telegram sent by the United States Highway Council to the State Highway Commission was read in which it stated that no further applications need be made for approval of highway projects and that previous disapprovals made by the Councils are now revoked, also that all pending applications require no further action.

The report of Miss Anne Bell Bailey, county librarian, showing the amount of expenditures for her office during the month of October, was received and ordered filed.

A claim was presented by the Social Service Commission amounting to $284.05 and covering the salary of Miss Hazel Wedgwood, head nurse of the San Mateo County Health Service, the rent of the free clinic operated at Daly City and several other items of a small amount. The board later in the session allowed the claim after the hearing had been changed to Public Nursing Fund.

In connection with the claim, Supervisor Hickey spoke about the splendid work done by the clinic among the poor people of the county.

This being the time set for the further hearing of the petition for the abandonment of a certain road in Arleta Park near Halfmoon Bay, the clerk of the board stated that Attorney J. E. McCurdy, representing the petitioner, had telephoned asking that the matter be dropped, so that a new petition could later be filed.

This action was taken by the board on motion of Francis, seconded by MacBain.

The following bids for furnishing sites for the new county hospital were received and read:

John Mangine, Millbrae, ten acre tract north of Millbrae for $25,000.
A. D. McLellan, 26 acres at Beresford, now being leased by Japanese for the growing of flowers, $750 per acre.

Hortense Lagarde, Woodside, 31 acres on the Canyade road, about two miles north of Woodside, for $18,000.
Juliet B. Lane, Proposition No. 1—25 acres in "Smithfield Tract," Belmont $15,000. Proposition No. 2—55 acres in "Sunnyslope Tract," $32,500.

On motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey, action on bids were laid over for consideration until the meeting of December 2, and it was ordered that a committee of three citizens be appointed to act with the supervisors in the matter of making the selection of the proposed site.

A petition signed by some 65 employees of the Schaw-Batcher Shipbuilding company, whose homes are in Redwood City, was presented and read; asking the board to lend its assistance in getting the Southern Pacific Railroad company to stop the southbound train N. 102, in the afternoon at Redwood City.

Clifton E. Woodhams, one of the petitioners, addressed the board in the matter and stated that owing to the fact that the above train does not stop at Redwood, it is necessary for the men working at the plant and residing in that city to wait over an hour at the South San Francisco station for the following train. If the men could take the earlier train, Woodhams explained, they would reach home at 4:15 instead of 5:20, as at present.

Assemblyman Frank L. Eskward, who was present at the meeting, suggested that the matter be brought to the attention of the heads of the shipbuilding company and they in turn could take it up with the Shipping board. There was no doubt, he believed, that the request would be readily granted.

The board, on motion of Hickey, seconded by Brown, gave its hearty endorsement to the petition.

H. H. Archer, who had the contract for sinking a new well at the county farm and had reached a depth of 300 feet without encountering water, was given an extension contract, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Mr. Brown for sinking another hundred feet at a price of $7 per foot, the other conditions being the same as under the previous contract.

Upon the request of Chairman Thompson and on motion of Hickey, seconded by Brown, the board ordered the work of opening the mouth of Pescadero creek, as is customary at this time of the year.

Attorney Joseph B. Gordon of San Mateo, San Mateo county chairman of the United War Work Committee, addressed the board in the matter of securing an appropriation from the county to assist in raising the quota. Attorney Gordon explained the difficulties and obstacles the committee met in conducting the drive and that from present indications, it appeared that the county would fall short of about $2000 in raising the quota.

Supervisor MacBain stated that he would not be in favor of taking any action in the matter until it was definitely ascertained just what amount the committee had been able to raise in the drive. When the figures were complete, he said he would be willing to meet any day and consider the request of the committee, but he did not feel that the board should be asked to contribute if the quota could be raised in any other way.

This was the view taken by the other members of the board and after further discussion in the matter, the board adjourned on motion of MacBain, seconded by Brown, at 11 a. m. to Monday, November 25, to take action on the request of Attorney Gordon.

CALIFORNIA AND CALIFORNIANS

BY GENERAL JOHN F. SHEEHAN

Earliest Pioneers Across the Plains.

The first party known to have entered California "across the plains" was led by Captain Jedediah S. Smith as Smith, Jackson & Sublette. The firm was authorized by the United States government to hunt and trap wild animals west of the Rocky mountains. Smith and his men reached the vicinity of Salt Lake, Utah, in 1826, and proceeded to the Colorado River, where they learned from Indians of the existence of Missions towards the coast conducted by white men. Being in need of subsistence they crossed the Mohave desert and finally found refuge at San Gabriel Mission in Los Angeles county. The Smith party consisted of 15 persons, and while received with accustomed hospitality of the Spaniards, they were held in detention and their presence reported to the Mexican authorities at San Diego. Smith was ordered to appear before Governor Echeandia at the latter place, and it was only through the intercession of Captains of foreign vessels at the seaport town that they were permitted to depart on promise to go back whence they came. But Captain Smith did not dare again face the dreaded desert, so he started north, entering the San Joaquin Valley, and finally crossing the Coast range again sought shelter and substantial aid of the Mexicans at the Mission San Jose in Alameda county. Here they were once more detained and reported to the authorities at Pueblo San Jose, where the scenes of San Diego were re-enacted. It would appear that Smith's party scattered while around the bay of San Francisco, and the leader with a portion of the party started for Salt Lake, going by way of Oregon. Captain Smith was killed in 1831 in New Mexico by Indians it was reported.

Among the Smith party at least three men who afterwards figured prominently in the affairs of California, viz: George C. Yount from North Carolina; Wm. Pope from Kentucky, and Cyrus Alexander from New York. These adventurous Americans appear to have hunted about the bay counties for a few years before making a permanent settlement.

For we find that Yount and Pope located in Napa county and Alexander in the neighborhood of what is now Headlandsburg, Sonoma county, in the early '30's. They were certainly the first American settlers who came "the plains across." On the monument erected to the memory of George C. Yount, in the village of Yountville, Napa county, is inscribed: "Born in Burke county, North Carolina, May 4, 1794, died October 5, 1865; aged 71 years and five months." Yount, in 1836 secured from Governor Gutierrez the Caymus grant in Napa county, extending from Yountville nearly to St. Helena and consisting of two square leagues or 8,144 acres. In 1843 he also acquired from Governor Micheltorena the Rancho de la Jota, containing 4453 acres. In 1843 Col. J. B. Chiles went back to Missouri and brought out with him the family of Mr. Yount.

Pope Valley in Napa county takes its name from Wm. Pope, and Alexander Valley on Russian river, between Headlandsburg and Cloverdale.

Generals Sherman and Ord surveyed Sacramento.

Sacramento was first laid out as a town for Sutter by Lieutenant William H. Warner in the autumn of 1849.

It was almost altogether around the fort, and only a street or two was projected to the river bank or embankment, where the main part of the city now stands. This was then a sort of swamp, covered with vines. Sutter contended that it was not and could not be made fit for a town on account of its liability to overflow; and he therefore had the town laid out to which the city now extends. He afterwards had the survey made down to the higher ground on the river bank at what is now known as Sutterville. Warner seems to have been assisted in his survey by Lieutenants Wm. Tecumseh and E. O.

C. Ord. These three, during the work, camped together on the bank of the American river, abreast the fort, at what was known as the "old tan-yard." Sherman was cook; Ord cleaned the dishes, and Warner looked after the horses. This arrangement, so far as Ord and Warner were concerned, lasted but a short time, for the reason that Ord would only wipe the tin plates with a tuft of grass, according to the custom of the country in those days, while Warner insisted on having them washed after each meal with hot water. Warner was in consequence promoted to the position of chief scullion and Ord became hostler. Warner was afterwards, in the autumn of 1849, killed by the Indians in surrtying the Sierra Nevada near Goose Lake on a railroad route; Ord became in the civil war a General, and Sherman "marched through Georgia."

Too Many Murphys—A Political Trick
There was a rather peculiar trick played in the Democratic convention which was called to order in the Baldwin Theatre, San Francisco in 1894. Barney D. Murphy of San Jose was considered the favorite candidate for Governor, but James H.

Budd of Stockton was also a candidate. Budd was always active, and never missed a trick which could be used to advantage. At this time another

Murphy was a candidate before the Democratic convention. James

Murphy had served in the legislature, and being superior judge of Del Norte county, sought promotion to the supreme bench. Budd and his friends managed in the Committee on Order of Business to have candidates for the judgeships nominated before Governor, and secured the nomination of Murphy of Del Norte. Before voting for Governor it was whispered through the looser ends that, as much as the A. P. A. movement was still strong in the state it would be bad politics to place two bearing so unquestioned an Irish name as Murphy on the ticket. One Murphy having already been nominated, a remarkable of the well-known Santa Clara pioneer family, was defeated and James H. Budd was declared the nominee for Governor.

The full ticket was: Governor, James H. Budd of Stockton; Lieutenant Governor, Wm. T. Jeter of Santa Cruz; Secretary of State, Ben M.

Maddox; Controller, Michael Maegher; Treasurer, J. C. Castro; Attorney

General, D. M. Angier; Surveyor General, A. B. Davis; Clerk Supreme Court, P. W. McGlade; Superintendent of Schools, C. S. Smith; State

Printer, John J. Curry; Justice Supreme Court, James Murphy and

Jackson Temple; Justice, short term, E. A. Bridgeford; Railroad Commissioners, Hugh M. Larue, James I.

Stanton and W. W. Phillips.

The election resulted in the defeat of Budd by 1206 votes, but the remainder of the Republican ticket was elected by good majorities, including all the Justices of the Supreme Court and the "other" Murphy was also defeated. A remarkable feature of the vote was that while Estee carried the state outside of the metropolis by nearly 10,000 majority

Budd carried San Francisco by upwards of 11,000 over Estee. It is yet a puzzle how this could have been accomplished honestly. But there was no contest and Budd became Governor, and a satisfactory one.

PRIZE FOR REDWOOD CITY
PEOPLE AND RED CROSS
During the influenza epidemic in Redwood City the people, especially the church societies and Red Cross, were untiringly generous and devoted to those families who were in quarantine and not a day passed but that they were cared for with tempting establishments, hot and ready to be served. Those who received these attentions are loud in the praise of the service bestowed.

Through the columns of the Mayfield News, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Anderson of Redwood City and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. B. Nichols wishes to thank the Red Cross and Congregational church people and Rev. Stevens of that city for their faithful and untiring care of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson's little family while the parents were in the hospital, and for continued service thereafter. Plenty of good prepared food was delivered punctually each day to those suffering from sickness.—Mayfield News.

CHESTNUT TELLS HOW HE GOT HUN IN HEAD
How he put a bullet through the head of a Hun who shot his pal when a regiment of boche came over the top at the Yankees following a heavy gas attack is told in a letter received here by Justice of the Peace George E. Seely from his nephew, Edward Chestnut, with Battery D of the artillery forces. Chestnut writes: "This barrage of gas hadn't had a chance to lift, and I could feel it getting at my lungs so that it burned like a glass of hot whisky, when the boche came over on top of us, trying for a new ruse. He was dolled out in his gas mask, but we were fighting devils when we saw his trick. I saw a blond beast some yards away take a shot at my trench chum.

C. J. Evans has disposed of his forty acre ranch, a portion of the Johnston ranch, on the Ocean Shore Railroad, to A. M. Medeiros for $6000. The deed to the property was filed in the county recorder's office on Wednesday.

SAW EVIDENCE OF PROSPERITY

D. Stokes O'Callaghan, manager of the Standard Guaranty Mortgage corporation, arrived home from a three months' trip through Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin, during the week.

Everywhere he went Mr. O'Callaghan saw evidences of prosperity particular ly in the agricultural districts. The farmers have plenty of money and many automobiles. Good prices and big crops in these states have made the farmer happy. The news of the signing of the armistice was received with delight. Many anxious fathers and mothers were pleased to learn of the glad tidings for soon their loved ones will be home. Mr. O'Callaghan heard many complimentary things about California while in the east. He predicts great prosperity for the state very soon. The eyes of the east are riveted on California.

The excellent climate is the lodestone that will draw the people of the east to the coast.
